

19th October, 2012

Enriching Expert Talk on “Entrepreneurship Development in Agribusiness”

To instill confidence among the students for becoming an entrepreneur and to make them aware with the intricacies of becoming an entrepreneur; the Training & Placement Cell of AABMI organized an Enriching expert Talk on “Entrepreneurship Development in Agribusiness” on 19th October, 2012; wherein an enthusiastic young Agribusiness Entrepreneur – the Proud Owner of Jalaram Agro Service Centre, Khergam and the Proud Alumni of Dr. B K. Dhaduk - Mr. Dharmeshkumar T. Lad was invited for interacting with the students to guide them about becoming an entrepreneur.

In the beginning, much needed learning ambience for this Expert Talk was created by the HR Faculty Member & TPO - Mr. Mehul G. Thakkar by elaborating the broad objectives of this talk. He explained the participants about the noticeable difference between a “Job Seeker” and a “Job Giver”. He even introduced the Speaker in his inimitable style by briefing the august gathering about how Mr. Dharmeshkumar Lad – being only a B. Sc. (Horticulture) Graduate from our own ASPEE College of Horticulture & Forestry, NAU, Navsari, could rise to the occasion and surmounting all obstacles, became a successful entrepreneur.

Then, Dr. B K. Dhaduk Sir – the Dean of AABMI remembered the pleasant memories of the student life of Mr. Dharmesh and advised the participants to take maximum advantage of this life-time opportunity. He welcomed his dear and near student with an emotional touch.

Then, Mr. Dharmeshkumar Lad took charge and elaborated on the need, relevance and significance of becoming an Entrepreneur. With several real life illustrations drawn from his own journey, he could highlight the essential characteristics of an ideal point with clear cut statistics addition that can be gained even at a smaller scale. He dream big and work same. In a simple lucid competitive secrets of which usually businessmen remembered the enormous graduating college, his contributions of his own former teachers and the University setup in grooming himself as a successful entrepreneur.

With several real life own journey, he could highlight the essential characteristics of an ideal point with clear cut statistics addition that can be gained even at a smaller scale. He dream big and work same. In a simple lucid competitive secrets of which usually businessmen remembered the enormous graduating college, his

In the concluding remarks, Dr. B. K. Dhaduk, the Dean of AABMI, appreciated the bold, daring and promising step taken by Mr. Dharmeshkumar T. Lad. He even advised all the presentees to inculcate entrepreneurial quality and instead of begging for jobs, becoming an independent entrepreneur. As a token of appreciation, he also presented a memento to Mr. Dharmesh.

In the end, the unique cameo speech by the HR Faculty & Internal Trainer of AABMI - Mr. Mehul G. Thakkar with several popular dialogues and shayaris coupled with relevant insights from the inspiring talk of Mr. Dharmesh really served as the ice on the cake; and it was widely applauded.

This very informative and enriching session ended with a lot of unanimous appreciation from all the students as well as the faculty members, who could feel recharged and inspired from within. The formal vote of thanks was delivered by Ms. Mital Surti, a student of M. Sc. (ICT in Agriculture) – Sem-I.