

CRYSTAL NATIONAL AGRI AWARDS

REQUEST FOR YOUR PARTICIPATION

To
The Vice-Chancellor
DR A R PATHAK
Navsari Agricultural University (NAU)

Indian agriculture is among the most robust and vibrant in the world. It is the largest private enterprise and sustains lives of billions of Indians besides providing livelihood to millions of farmers. From farmers to teachers, traders, government farm extension and researchers, facility providers – a large number of individuals and agencies breathe agriculture on a daily basis.

Crystal Crop Protection believes in view of the declining interest in agriculture there is a need for the industry to come together and create systems which would give the sector the requisite encouragement and support. Crystal India Agri Awards, proposed to be held on July 3, 2014, is one such initiative by us, which is an endeavour to identify and felicitate individuals/organizations and groups, whose contribution – on the field or outside of it – have made a difference to agricultural practices over the years. There are total four categories including Farmers, Research Scientist, NGO and a Jury Award who will compete for 20 awards for their outstanding contribution in the field of agriculture.

It could be a small Farmer who has adopted progressive farming technique, or any innovation in agriculture that they have brought in for their community, a Research Scientist, who may have explored a new way of safeguarding farmers from the vagaries of nature, an NGO, who has been working towards significant development of the farming community and a Jury Award for outstanding contribution in agriculture over the years.

This award will look at the entire universe of agriculture, set out at a robust mechanism of identifying best practices, innovators and good practitioners, best research initiatives by a scientist which would have a direct bearing on farmers by a panel of eminent and unbiased jury.

As an important functionary in this sector, you have immensely contributed to the agriculture sector. We write this to request if you could take your precious time and encourage the participation of your team. Please visit <http://www.crystalcropprotection.com/> for more details about the awards. Last date for registration is June 10, 2014.

We request for your registration and make this initiative a great success.

With best regards,

Mr NK Aggarwal
