Dear Sir,

Sub: Foundation Course for Faculty of Agricultural Universities during May 2 – 31, 2016 – Request for nominations

NAARM is organizing the second Foundation Course for Faculty of Agricultural Universities during May 2 – 31, 2016. This programme is being offered based on the needs of newly recruited faculty members of Agricultural Universities and also as a follow-up demand for such need-based course expressed by the Vice-Chancellors of various Agricultural Universities.

This programme is aimed to orient the newly recruited faculty members to the national and international agricultural scenario and to enhance knowledge and skills related to teaching-learning process, technology in education, research and technology transfer processes and human resource and extension management.

The programme is fully residential and participants are required to stay in the furnished accommodation on campus. There is no programme fee. However, the cost payable by the sponsoring universities is Rs. 18,000/- per participant towards cost of board and lodging charges @ Rs.600/day. The TA and DA expenses will have to be borne by the participants.

I request you to nominate eligible faculty from your university for this course. The last date for receiving the nomination is April 16th 2016. The nominated participants may be advised to make their own travel arrangements immediately. Formal confirmation of their nomination will be sent by April 18, 2016.

With regards,

Director of Research & Dean P.G.S.

Prologue

Newly recruited faculty members in the cadre of Assistant Professors of Agricultural University system are expected to discharge a variety of key roles as teacher, researcher and outreach professional. These fresh entrants to the system need to be aligned to the requirements and expectations of their institutions. It requires a systematic induction by way of foundation training to orient them to their professional roles, governance systems, besides desirably moulding personality and behaviour for their transience from students to professionals.

Understanding of the teaching-learning principles, selection of the appropriate technology and/or methodologies with due consideration of the long-term and potential benefit to the student are key issues in creation of effective teaching and learning environments. Faculty members of Agricultural University also play a significant role in research and extension activities for the stake holders. Therefore, they require basic knowledge and skills in the sphere of research and extension and develop the right attitude, necessitating orientation towards research & project management, human resource and extension management. Further the newly recruited faculty members in Agricultural Universities need a formal orientation to the national/international agricultural scenario, research system management, extension and human resource management. With this background the present course has been designed with the following objectives.

Objectives

1. To orient the participants to the national and international agricultural scenario.
2. To enhance knowledge, skills and attitude (KSA) of the participants in various aspects of education, teaching-learning process and technology in education.
3. To expose the participants to research and technology transfer processes.
4. To sensitize the participants to organizational capacity related to human capital, administrative and financial management.

Content

The Foundation course is fully residential and is a blend of theory and practical sessions consisting of five broad areas of coverage as given below:

1. National Agricultural Research & Education System
2. Educational Methodology & Management
3. Human Resource Management
4. Research and Project Management
5. Extension and Communication Management

Andragogy

It consists of a blend of lectures, demos, interactive discussions in a participatory mode, and extensive hands-on experiences. Daily Yoga classes are also integral part of the course.

Eligibility

Faculty members in the cadre of Assistant Professors or equivalent from Agricultural Universities (Agriculture / Veterinary / Animal Science / Dairy / Fisheries / Horticulture / Forest Science) recruited in the 1-2 years, are eligible.

Duration and Venue

The duration is 30 days i.e., from 2 to 31 May 2016. The participants are expected to arrive latest by the evening of 1 May 2016, and can leave NAARM after 1700 hrs on 31 May 2016.

Hyderabad is well connected by air, rail and road from all parts of the country. One can reach NAARM located in Prof. Jayashankar Telangana State Agricultural University campus (formerly Acharya N.G. Ranga Agricultural University campus), Rajendranagar, by city bus route No 95 A from Koti to Agricultural college bus stop, or 94H or 94R to Rajendranagar bus stop which are 1.5 kms from the Academy or by 95R which plies limited trips from Koti to Rajendranagar via NAARM Campus. One can also reach the Academy by taxi / auto.

Programme Fee

There is no programme fee. However, the participants have to meet the expenses on account of their stay and boarding (approximately Rs. 600/- per day) on NAARM campus as the programme is fully and compulsorily residential. Towards this, sponsoring Universities may arrange to send an
