Recently the Indian agriculture sector is facing the difficult time due to two consecutive drought situations in several parts of the country, thereby resulting into wide spread distress among farmers. The other major factor that influence the farmers i.e. market. Market fluctuates due to monsoon uncertainty, so putting farming sector in crisis. The situation and make more long term farmers centric policies related to doubling farmers' income by farm profitability, irrigation, farm diversification and promoting of mixed farming, so as to socially and economically empower farmers. Farmer income must be enhanced; efficiency in the use of resources; minimum expenditure of non renewable resources and drought management in non drought season like more warehouses, more cold chain, implement watershed and water harvesting. ABOUT THE BHARUCH HISTORIC CITY :

Bharuch formerly known as Broach is a city at the mouth of the holy river Narmada in Gujarat in western India. Bharuch is second old city of India and first old city of Gujarat state. Bharuch is the administrative headquarters of Bharuch District and is a municipality of about 370,000 inhabitants. Being one of the biggest industrial areas including Ankleshwar GIDC, it is at times referred as the chemical capital of India.

The city of Bharuch and its surroundings have been settled since times of antiquity. It was a ship building centre and sea port in the pre-compass coastal trading routes to points west, perhaps as far back as the days of the Pharaohs. The route made use of the regular and predictable monsoon winds or galleys. Many goods from the Far East (the famed Spice and Silk trade) were shipped there during the annual monsoon winds, making it a terminus for several key land-sea trade routes. Bharuch was known to the Greeks, the various Persian Empires, in the Roman Republic and Empire, and in other Western centres of civilisation through the end of the European Middle Ages. The city is known by the well reverberation in culture, spiritual and sincerity from the prehistoric era. The River Narmada is begins from the Amarkantak which flow nearby city of Bharuch and ends the same in Arabian Sea. The several historic places like Bhrugu Rishi Ashram/Temple, Kabirvad, Shukaltirth, Neelkanth Mahadev Temple, Centre of Prajapita Brahmakumaris Ishwariya Vishwa Vidyalaya, Gayatri Peeth, Swami Narayan Temple and several another places.
