Dear Sir/Ma'm

As you may be aware about the Indian International Science Festival (IISF) is being organised annually for the last three years jointly by Ministry of Science & Technology and Ministry of Earth Sciences in association with VijnanaBharati (VIBHA). 4th IISF 2018 is being organised from 5th – 8th October, 2018 at Indira Gandhi Praatishthan, Lucknow, Uttar Pradesh. This year the responsibility of holding this event is with Department of Biotechnology, GOI, New Delhi.

As per the directions from the Hon'ble Minister for S&T, Earth Sciences and MoEF& CC, Department is organizing Young Scientist's Conference (YSC) as one of the activities of IISF- 2018. The aim of this conference is to bring young scientists (under the age of 40 yrs) from different walks of life together on a common platform to interact, discuss and exchange innovative ideas which could help in addressing issues related to the country's flagship programs including Make in India, Digital India, Swachhh Bharat, Swasth Bharat, Biodiversity & Environment and various Frontier areas of Science.

Accordingly, as head of the institution, you are requested to nominate young scientists/faculty/researches/students (Maximum four) for this event. All the nominated participants should register online for the event latest by 5th August, 2018 at www.scienceindiafest.org. Flyer of the program is enclosed herewith for your ready reference.

The organisers will bear the local hospitality, pick up & drop from the railway station/airport as the case may be.

You may send your list of nomination to Mr. Amit Singh, Room No: 10, Ministry of Earth Sciences, PrithiviBhawan, Lodhi Road, New Delhi-110003; Tel: 011-24669649, Email: ysc@scienceindiafest.org.

This invitation letter in hard copy has been sent to you.

A line of confirmation would be highly appreciated.

With best regards,

Yours sincerely

युवा वैज्ञानिक सम्मेलन YOUNG SCIENTISTS' CONFERENCE

5-6 October 2018

Young Scientists' Conference (YSC) is a part of the bigger canvass of India International Science Festival 2018, Lucknow. The main aim of this YSC is to provide an enabling ecosystem to young scientists/entrepreneurs/researchers (below the age of 40 years) where they can come, discuss and present their research findings and innovative ideas on the identified research themes. It will give an ample opportunity to the budding scientists to interact, discuss and share ideas to come up with interdisciplinary research models/programs keeping in view of the national flagship programs like, Make in India, Digital India, Swachchh Bharat, Swasth Bharat, Biodiversity and Environment; and various Frontier areas in Science (including all basic & applied sciences). The conference activities will be spread over two days (05th -06th October, 2018) including keynote, oral and poster sessions on relevant themes, besides panel discussions on various aspects related to career progression of the young scientists.

Eligibility: Young Scientists/ Faculties/PhD students/Postdoctoral fellows from Universities, Govt. Organizations, National Laboratories, Industry etc. Preferably below 40 years as on October 5, 2018

Mode of Participation:

Participation can be through (a) nominations and (b) through direct registrations. Each individual participant needs to register through a common portal of IISF 2018. The process of registration for the Young Scientists Conference (YSC) can be accessed at (<https://scienceindiafest.org/>). Registration is free and the local hospitality will be provided.

(a) Who can nominate?

- (i) Vice-Chancellors/Deans of Universities/ Academic Institutions

- (ii) Directors of National R&D Laboratories
(iii) Principals of post-graduate colleges across the country
(iv) Heads of R&Ds (Industry)
(v) Heads of NGOs

(b) Participants can register online and can submit abstract while registering if interested. The abstracts would be selected for oral/poster presentation and acceptance for the same will be communicated on the registered email id of the participant. However, any one can register and participate in the event irrespective of submitting an abstract.

Mere registration does not ensure participation. A CONFIRMATION mail from the organizers would be required for participation. However, participants are required to submit their travel itinerary within one week of the receipt of confirmation mail. Otherwise, the organizers won't take responsibility of their participation and can not arrange logistics.

Abstract Submission:

Interested delegates should submit their abstracts online latest by 31st July, 2018. Registration for YSC will close on 5th August, 2018. Each delegate will receive an automatic response mail upon submission. However, this response is not the acceptance of the abstract. Mode of presentation as oral/poster will be communicated through the confirmation mail. Abstracts are expected to be in the line with the identified themes.

Travel Support

There are a few travel support for students, researchers and young faculty members who do not have any funding resources. You may send an email to the following address for travel support along with a recommendation letter from the head of your institution.
