ICAR, New Delhi has taken-up the ranking of universities for the year 2017 in India on yearly basis and one of the criteria for the ranking of universities is the number of citations per articles (i.e. No. of papers cited 4 times or more each in year 2017) published by faculty members as per Scopus citation/Web Science data base on yearly basis. All faculty members of Navsari Agricultural University, Navsari are therefore informed to create their profile on Scopus/Web of Science. Creating profiles on these would provide information on citations per articles, which are very much important to improve the ranking of Navsari Agricultural University. Further faculty members may try to publish original research works in over 6.0 NAAS rating and upload only those research papers which are published under "Open Access Agreement" with publishers. Faculty members should be aware about copy right and plagiarism. If any queries arise, regarding plagiarism or violation of copyright, then the first author of the publication will be held accountable.

All Faculty members with papers cited 4 times or more in 2017 must submit information in given format to email id icartable4@gmail.com on or before 14/05/2018.
